TENEMENT SICKNESS STIRS BOARD TO ACTION

BIRD-MEN KILLED IN RECORD FALL

Agent Here On Secret Mission

A "mysterious stranger" who has been present at all of the recent opium investigations conducted by United States District Attorney Breckons, and who is believed by some Federal employees in the Judiciary building to be a secret service agent, is the cause of much interest to those who are anxious to learn his identity.

That the man has been sent to Hawaii to make an independent investigation into the opium business is considered a certainty, although both U. S. District Attorney Breckons and Marshal Hendry declare that they are absolutely in the dark as to the man's identity or purpose. For a man they do not know, both officials named are rather friendly terms with the visitor.

It is known that the man is planning a trip to both Maui and Hawaii on opium business and that he will be in the Territory for some time.

"Perhaps he is investigating me," was the only reply that Breckons would make this morning when questioned concerning the identity and purpose of the visitor.

The sending of a secret service agent to Hawaii would naturally be in line with the new campaign that has been begun by Chief Wilkie of the United States secret service in probing violations of the customs laws.

NO PAPER MONDAY

The Bulletin will not be issued on Monday, June 12, the day being observed as a holiday for all members of the Bulletin office staff.

During the early part of the year Bulletin men did a lot of mighty hard work in moving the plant to the new Alakea street offices, and that without missing an issue or materially delaying the usual business of the office. The vacation of a two-day holiday is too good an opportunity to be missed for taking a breathing spell and getting new energy for the busy Bulletin summer.

Typhoid Follows Delay of Order

Case Develops At Insanitary King Street Tenement And Board Acts

A case of para typhoid last night in the King street tenement against which the Territorial Board of Health has been endeavoring to enforce the abatement of nuisance act resulted in the Board disregarding the delays and legal technicalities of the case this morning and having the cesspool pumped out which has been frequently declared by the health officials to be a menace to the people of the vicinity.

After serving notice on Allen and Robinson, the supposed lessees of the building the Board of Health discovered that the Bishop Estate was the owner of the land, the Hawaii Land Company holding the property as lessees and the Allen & Robinson having control over the tenement as mortgagor. Confronted with the difficulty of segregating the legal responsibility and determined to prevent more cases of typhoid, declared also almost sure to follow a continuance of the conditions, President Mott-Smith decided to have the work done at once and return to the enforcement of the law when the imminent danger was passed.

The cesspool which the Board of Health condemned overflowed and flooded under the surrounding houses. The first order of the Board was partially obeyed, a new cesspool being dug but even this proved insufficient and when this overflowed no attention was paid to the orders of the Board of Health.

In addition to the typhoid case last night a child was born in the tenement, a fact which also served to cause the Board to take the law into its own hands.

President Mott-Smith of the Board of Health stated this morning that W. C. Aehl, representing the Hawaii Land Company, stated that the company could not afford to have the cesspool pumped out regularly but would contribute $15.00 a month if the city would pay the rest. The answer of Mott-Smith was that he was interested only in the enforcement of the law and this will be applied vigorously.

APPOINTMENT OF YOUNG LADY IN ROAD DEPARTMENT STARTS KICKS FROM THE DEMOCRATS

Road Supervisor Ellwood C. Wilder has stirred up a small-sized hornet's nest in the ranks of the faithful Democrats by his appointment of a young lady, Miss G. Swayne, to the position that was left vacant when he gently but firmly ousted Chief Clerk John C. Anderson out of the job.

As a result of Wilder's action, Democratic leaders are getting an ever-increasing volume of kicks from the voters, who declare that the patronage that rightfully belongs to the party has been given to a non-voter and one who has been a resident of Honolulu only a few weeks. If any patronage is to be distributed, the Democrats say it should go to the party that put Mayor Fern in office and made it possible for Mayor Fern to appoint Wilder.

Mayor Fern himself is displeased with the appointment Wilder made from a political point of view. Thus far, not a question has been raised as to Miss Swayne's ability to hold down the job, but the Bourbons are kicking because they say the party has been overlooked. Wilder, however, gives no evidence of yielding.

PUBLIC DRINKING CUP DOOMED

A vigorous enforcement of the law prohibiting public drinking cups and providing for cuspidors in all public places is to be undertaken by the Territorial Board of Health.

The last Legislature passed a law giving the Board of Health extensive control over general precautions in the preservation of public health and particularly measures directed against the spread of tuberculosis.

President Mott-Smith is drawing up a form of notice that will be served on those who are found to be violating the law and in addition to this a number of notices will be prepared calling the attention of the general public to the law as it now exists.

"This law is an important one," stated the President of the Board of Health this morning, "and we purpose to enforce it as soon as we can have the necessary forms prepared. It has a wide range and I believe will do much toward the preservation of general health conditions."

James Sutherland, chief engineer of the steamer Claudine, today purchased at auction the Mauka-Ewa corner of King and Keeaumoku streets. The price paid was $3,500, and the buyer was represented at the auction by the Waterhouse Trust Company.

The sale of the property, which was under commissioner's order, took place at the offices of J. F. Morgan and the attendance was large and bidding lively. The bidding started at $2,500 and went up to $3,500 by tens, twenties and fifties.

The property is improved with a master's cottage and servants' house.

All concessions made before that time will be

CUSTOMS AUTHORITIES AND A.-H. STEAMSHIP MEXICAN TANGLE UP OVER SMUGGLING

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
HILO, June 9.—The efforts of the customs authorities in this city have been directed against the American-Hawaiian steamer Mexican for the past twenty-four hours, and the Enterprise, which has yielded no results, has been given rather the go by. According to reports, rather serious results are likely to follow the investigation, if the orders of Collector Stackable are carried out. It appears that Stackable got wind in Honolulu of information to the effect that fifty tons of opium were on board the Mexican, and he ordered her searched at Kahului. This was done, but further orders were sent that she was not to be given a clearance at that port for Hilo until the opium had been discovered.

Realizing that this would mean a loss of over $500 per day to the American-Hawaiian company, Captain Tapriel out. It appears that Stackable

WANT POSTERS BY SCHOOL CHILDREN

School children of Honolulu will have a special opportunity to compete for a handsome prize to be offered by the Hawaii Promotion Committee for the best poster to advertise the annual Floral Parade. In fact, the promotion committee members are discussing holding a competition for a poster limited to the school-children, and D. P. R. Isenberg yesterday proposed that a cash prize of $100 be given to the winner of the competition.

The committee members believe that there are many school-children competent to make suitable designs for the annual parade poster. Announcement of the details of the competition will be made later. The committee had before it yesterday a design submitted by F. A. Pawla. It is the head and bust of a Hawaiian girl holding a bouquet of flowers, with a scarlet hibiscus flaming in her dark hair. The committee viewed the design impartially and some of its points were given commendation.

DEMOCRATS WILL PAY, OR NO CONTEST

Mayor Fern Says He's Tired of Carrying Fights Into Courts.

THINKS THE PARTY SHOULD BACK HIM UP

Mayor Fern will probably not carry to the Supreme Court the prospective fight over the rights of the Board of Supervisors to deprive him of his appointive power by abolishing positions the filling of which come under his jurisdiction. The mayor is tired of carrying these fights into the courts and then having to pay the costs from his own pocket, and will put it up to the Democratic party this time.

On July 1 a law passed by the last legislature becomes effective whereby the Mayor is expressly given the right of appointment to all positions unless otherwise provided for by law "or ordinance." This is the law that caused a fight all through the legislature, for it was drawn so that the Supervisors, by ordinance, may take away the positions to which the Mayor appoints.

Mayor Fern has been quoted by some of his self-named spokesmen as being ready to take this law into the courts and endeavor to prove it unconstitutional, but the Mayor himself takes a slightly different view of the matter.

"I am not feeling much like taking this into the Supreme Court," he declared today. "I have taken, as Mayor, similar fights into the courts and up to the Supreme Court three times, and each time I have had to pay for it out of my own pocket. It is a party fight, and the party should pay for it. If the Democratic party wants to get the law tested and the rights of the Mayor upheld, the Democrats ought to pay for the court proceedings. But no; as soon as the campaign is over, I am left to pay for it, and I am tired of it."

It is no secret that the Mayor is dissatisfied with the support given him by some of the Democrats, and the last case that went to the Supreme Court, when the legality of the Mayor's election was tested, is said to have cost him more than $300 in attorney's fees and other expenses.

ATHERTON FIRE WAS NEEDLESS

The destruction of Mrs. J. B. Atherton's fine Pacific Heights residence by fire shortly after 1 o'clock this morning could have been averted, according to statements by Fire Chief Thurston and people who live near the scene of the fire.

Fire Chief Thurston says that better fire-fighting equipment is needed, and that this would have saved the residence. On the other hand, a Pacific Heights resident declares that the fire department should have sent an engine that could pump water, instead of the fire extinguishers and a chemical engine. The chief says to this that engines could not reach the scene in time.
